SunRiseYouth Arts Collective – Performance

At SunRiseYouth, our goal is to uplift and encourage aspiring young artists by building connections with parents who share our vision for youth development through the arts. We are grassroots, community-driven initiative that recognizes the lack of creative spaces for youth to connect, collaborate, and express themselves.

Together with parents and local businesses, we aim to create events where youth in our community can proudly showcase their talents, whether in music, art, or spoken word.

Run by Youth, for Youth

Our initiative is built on peer-to-peer positivity, encouraging young people to work together from start to finish on creative projects. Our first project will focus on organizing live music performances featuring only youth performers aged 16 and under.

These events are non-competitive, there are no judges, no rankings, and no winners or losers. Every performance is valued equally. Our goal is simply to celebrate each child's courage and creativity, regardless of their level of experience.

Calling All Young Creatives

If your child is a musician, artist, poet, or performer of any kind, we warmly invite them to take part in our upcoming community showcases. This is just the beginning, as we grow, we envision even bigger and more exciting opportunities for youth expression and collaboration.

Commitment to Growth

To help youth get the most out of this experience, we ask participants to take their preparation seriously. We recommend practicing their chosen art form for at least 30 minutes, four days a week leading up to the performance.

This isn't about pressure, it's about pride. We want every child to feel the joy of knowing they did their best. This gentle practice commitment is designed to build confidence, discipline, and a sense of accomplishment.
